

'JnU teacher, employee suspended

United News of Bangladesh
Dhaka

A TEACHER of Jagannath University and one of its employees have been suspended for their reported negligence in duties and involvement in irregularities during the university's D Unit admission test held on Friday.

The university authorities took the action against management studies department lecturer Dewan Badrul Hasan and its employee Emdadul Haq, said a press release on Saturday.

A three-member probe body has also been formed with law faculty dean professor Sarkar Ali Akkas as its convener while mass communication and journalism department chairman professor Helena Ferdousi and physics department professor Nure Alam Abdullah as members.