Education minister Nurul Islam Nahid on Monday urged all to work together for improving the standard of education in the country.

‘Quality teachers mean quality education. As teachers play a vital role in improving the standard of education, we are arranging trainings for them both at home and abroad. Teachers should do their work with outmost dedication to build the future generation,’ he said.

The minister came up with the observations while distributing awards on National Education Week-2017 and 2018 at International Mother Language Institute in capital’s Segun Bagicha area.

‘The main goal of education is to turn the new generation as the architects of modern Bangladesh. So we have to raise them as capable and skilled human being. We are inspiring people in education sector by awarding the best educational institute, the best headmaster, principal, madrassah superintendant, class teacher, district and upazila education officer in national level.

We are also awarding best Rover, BNCC and Girls Guide group to develop their leadership skills,’ Nahid added.

Presided over by secondary and higher education division secretary Md Sohorab Hossain, the function was also addressed by technical and madrassah education division secretary Md Alamgir, additional secretary Aruna Biswas and director general of directorate of secondary and higher education Professor Md Mahbubur Rahman, among others.

A total of 180 teachers, students and officials were awarded in 25 categories on the occasion.
