The Jagannath University authorities celebrated JnU Day on Monday marking the university's thirteenth founding anniversary amid festivity.

The daylong celebration included hoisting of the national and university flags, a colourful procession, a discussion programme, a cultural event and a drama performance.

JnU vice-chancellor Mijanur Rahman inaugurated the programmes by hoisting the national flag and releasing pigeons at 9:10am.

After that a colourful procession led by the VC was brought out on the campus.

Later, a discussion was held on the social science building premises on the campus around 10:30am.

While addressing the discussion programme as chief guest, the VC said the university was playing a vital role in research and higher education sector of the country.

He said the university authorities would build a new campus in Keraniganj following a master plan.

He unveiled a special supplement marking the institution's founding anniversary.

JnU treasurer Md Salim Bhuiyan, teachers' association president AKM Moniruzzaman, general secretary Mohammad Abdul Baki and registrar Md Ohiduzzaman, among others, addressed the programme.

Teachers and students of JnU Music department organised a concert while Theatre department students staged a drama marking the day.
