Secondary and Higher Education Division secretary Md Sohorab Hossain on Tuesday said that National Qualification Framework was highly needed for ensuring quality education at the tertiary level to compete with other counterparts in national and international arenas.

He made the call while addressing a daylong workshop titled 'Bangladesh National Qualification Framework' at UGC auditorium in Dhaka on Tuesday.

The Quality Assurance Unit of University Grants Commission organised this workshop.

He also underscored the need for transforming the country's citizens into skilled human resources.

With the commission's chairman Professor Abdul Mannan in the chair, the workshop was addressed by members Yousuf Ali Mollah and Md Akhtar Hossain as the special guests.

Professor Abdul Mannan, in his speech, said that higher education had been gaining momentum and pace in Bangladesh over the years.

'Quality enhancement at the tertiary education needs to be ensured now,' he added.

He also called upon all concerned with education, especially those engaged in the higher education sector, to work together for equipping the next generation with modern knowledge and skills.

Vice-chancellors of public and private universities, Gauranga Chandra Mohanta, project director of Higher Education Quality Enhancement Project, commission's secretary Md Khaled, Md Mokhlesur Rahman, senior operations officer of the World Bank and high officials from the education ministry, University Grants Commission, the World Bank, and the project were present on the occasion.
