Faridpur Politech Instt closed sine die

Our Correspondent

FARIDPUR Nov 10:—Faridpur Politechnic Institute has been declared closed sine die following an outbreak of violence by the students of the Institute yesterday at 11 a.m. over the results of their Final examination held in June this year. It is reported that when the examinees came to know that marks on each subject have been deducted from the marks obtained by each examinee in the Examination on the ground of allegedly wide spread adoption of unfairmeans in the examination held in June this year it is reported that when the examinees came to know that marks on each subject have been deducted from the marks obtained by each each examinee in the examination on the ground of allegedly wide-spread adoption of unfairmeans in the examination. The examinees went violent and ransacked the room of the administrative building and set the furniture and some important papers ablaze.

Police hurriedly went to the spot and got in to the campus by breaking open the main gate which was kept closed by the students, fired tear gass shells and brought the situation under control. It may be mentioned that only twelve out of 191 examinees come out successful in this year's Final Diploma Examination scheduled to be held in 1988. The agrieved examinees in a body met the Deputy Commissioner and handed over to him a memorandum seeking redress to the injustice done to them.
