The Centre for River, Harbour and Land-Slide Research of Chittagong University of Engineering and Technology held a webinar titled Stopping Bank Erosion in Bends of Large Alluvial Streams on Thursday.

CUET vice-chancellor M Rafiqul Alam was the chief guest in the webinar, supported by SMEC International Prosperity Limited of Australia, said a press release.

The centre chairman Professor Aysha Akhtar chaired the event, also addressed by the university's Institute of Research and Extension director Professor Ranajit Kumar Sutradhar. The key speaker was Myanmar's water resource development department's senior river engineer David C Froehlich.
