SEAT TRADE ALLEGATIONS AGAINST BCL

Outsiders asked to leave RU hall

The authorities of Shaheed Suhrawardy Hall of Rajshahi University have ordered outsiders and non-resident students to leave the hall amid widespread allegations of seat trade and torture against Bangladesh Chhatra League leaders at the RU residential halls.

The hall authorities issued a notice in this regard Tuesday night, saying that all non-residential students, outsiders and students of other halls who were illegally living at the hall must leave the hall by Wednesday.

Shaheed Suhrawardy Hall is the first of the university's 17 residential halls to take such an initiative amid mounting protests against an alleged situation of anarchy created by leaders and activists of the ruling Awami League-backed student organisation BCL.

BCL leaders and activists reportedly beat and ousted four students from their allotted rooms in June alone and 12 students in the past eight months.

Teachers and general students recently staged protests by forming human chains and observing sit-ins and demanded an end to the state of anarchy created by the Chhatra League.

The notice of Shaheed Suhrawardy Hall, however, also said, 'If any student wants to speak to the hall administration about his problem in person, he along with his guardian is instructed to contact the administration.'

Necessary steps will be taken on July 1, continued the notice, to accommodate the hall's students who are yet to get up in the hall.

The authorities warned that they would take legal action against those who would bar residential students from getting up in their rooms.

Provost Professor Jahangir told New Age, 'We will oust illegal students from the hall and accommodate the residential students who could not get up in their allotted room on July 1.'

RU pro-vice-chancellor Professor Sultan-Ul-Islam said that they had started working to solve the ongoing problems at the halls.

'We also don't want any kind of anarchy at the students' halls. We want everything to come under proper management', he added.
