German ambassador to Bangladesh Achim Troster paid a courtesy call on the Shahjalal University of Science and Technology vice-chancellor professor Farid Uddin Ahmed at his office in Sylhet on Wednesday.

The vice-chancellor welcomed the German envoy and expressed his cordial gratitude to Achim Troster and Mrs Troster for their visit to the university.

The German ambassador during the meeting said that Germany was interested in working jointly on different research projects at the university, which was the first university of science and technology in Bangladesh.

Professor Farid Uddin Ahmed said that the SUST was recognised as the best digital university in the country and it earned the second position among 52 public universities in the country according to the international ranking conducted this year by web metrics.

SUST treasurer Md Anwarul Islam, biochemistry and molecular biology department chief Abdullah Al Shoyeb and its associate professor Ajit Gosh, among others, were present during the meeting.

Earlier at about 9:00am, the German envoy and his wife reached Sylhet Osmani International Airport on a flight.
