

NSU organises orientation program for the students of fall semester 2022

Staff Correspondent | Published at 10:32pm on September 22, 2022

Information and broadcasting minister Hasan Mahmud attends the orientation program for fall semester 2022 organised by North South University as the chief guest, on Thursday. --- Press release photo.

North South University on Thursday organised an orientation programme for newly enrolled students for fall semester 2022.

In the fall semester 2022, more than two thousand students have got the opportunity to get admission in the graduate courses in 16 departments of the four schools of the university.

Among them, 59 students were awarded scholarships for good results in the admission examination. The orientation program broadcasted live on the official Facebook page of North South University, said a press release.

Information and broadcasting minister Hasan Mahmud was present in the programme as the chief guest.

Poet and novelist Mohammad Nurul Huda, also the Bangla Academy director general, was present as the special guest.

North South University boards of trustees Yasmin Kamal, Javed Munir Ahmad, Seema Ahmad were present as guests of honor.

NSU vice-chancellor professor Atiqul Islam chaired the event.

Hasan Mahmud said, 'You are passing the most important time of your life. Time does not wait for anyone. A student who can make the best use of his/her student life, nothing is an obstacle to achieve their goal. You must have a goal. You need to dream for yourself, for your family, for your society, and for your country.'

Yasmin Kamal said, 'North South University has all kinds of facilities to provide you the best education, you have make the best result by taking advantage of all these opportunities and you have to play a role in the development of your family and country.'

Javed Munir Ahmad said, 'I encourage all of you to take advantage of the resources, the opportunities and the environment that you have at NSU. Take this next four years very seriously and push yourself high. Don't slack, don't give up, and move forward. I wish all of you a great success in life. Make your parents proud, make your country proud and most importantly make yourself proud.'

Atiqul Islam said, 'Students come to a university for a good job, 100 per cent graduates of NSU are in good position in the job market. NSU is ranked in the top 500 in the world in the QS Graduate Employability Rankings 2022.'

In the meantime, he also said, 'Students want to learn from the most knowledgeable and skilled teachers, I can assure you, NSU has the most qualified and most caring international standard faculties who teach students with utmost care. We do research jointly with many reputed organizations. According to the latest data from the University Grants Commission, our total research numbers outnumber the total research of the top nine universities.'

Among others, pro-vice-chancellor professor M Ismail Hossain, registrar Ahmed Tazmeen, School of Business and Economics dean Abdul Hannan Chowdhury, School of Humanities and Social Sciences dean Prof Abdur Rob Khan, School of Engineering and Physical Sciences dean Prof Javed

Bari, faculties, directors of various departments, department heads and senior officials were present at the program.

A large number of parents and students also attended the orientation program.

Editor: Nurul Kabir, Published by the Chairman, Editorial Board ASM Shahidullah Khan on behalf of Media New Age Ltd. 30 Tejgaon Industrial Area, Dhaka-1208 Phone: 880-2-8170450-56 (PABX), Fax: 880-2-8170457

© 2022 Media New Age Limited or its affiliated companies. All rights reserved.