

Section of DU teachers, students protest over violence against women

Human chain by BNP-affiliated teachers' organisation, White Panel at the foot of Aparajeyo Bangla. Photo: Anisur Rahman/Star

Teachers affiliated with the BNP-backed White Panel formed a human chain on Dhaka University (DU) campus today, demanding an end to the deteriorating law and order situation, the prevention of violence against women, and justice for rape victims.

The demonstration began at 11:00am at the foot of Aparajeyo Bangla.

For all latest news, follow The Daily Star's Google News channel.

Simultaneously, faculty members and students from the university's economics department staged a protest against rape and all forms of violence at the Raju Memorial Sculpture.

Participants were seen chanting slogans against sexual violence.

Both demonstrations called for the resignation of the home affairs adviser, citing failure to maintain law and order.