

07 JAN 1987
7 2

18

Statistics now taught only in few colleges

Mahbubul Alam

The subject Statistics is now taught only a few colleges of the country though a large number of students are eager to study the subject both at intermediate and degree level.

At present most of the leading Colleges offering Honours courses including D. M. Government College, Barisal, Carmichael Government College, Rangpur, Edward Government College, Pabna, A. M. Government College, Mymensingh, Rajendra Government College, Faridpur, B. L. Government College, Daulatpur, Khulna, M. M. Government College, Jessore, Azizul Haq Government College, Bogra, Saadat Government College, Karatia, Tangail, Haraganga Government College, Munshiganj, Gurudayal Government College, Kishoreganj, Tolaram Government College, Narayanganj, Feni Government College, Chandpur Government College, Brahmanbaria Government College, Brindaban Government College, Dagerhat, Narail, Victoria Government College, Narail, Nowab Sirajuddinullah Government College, Natore, Hossain Shahid Suhra-

wardy Government College, Magura, Sirajganj Government College, Comilla Government

College, Comilla have no Statistics Department.

Proposals have already been placed with relevant authorities for opening Statistics departments by various colleges but with no results. Creation of a post of one Assistant Professor and two Lecturers of Statistics is a prerequisite to establish Statistics department in each government college.