New principal of JN College

Syed Mahtabuddin has been appointed as principal of Govt Jagannath College recently.

Prior to this appointment, Mr Mahtabuddin was a vice-principal (of night shift) and also an acting principal of the college.

Syed Mahtabuddin was born on Nov 1, 1932 in the district of Barisal. He obtained BA (Hons) and MA degree—both in English language and literature from the Dhaka University in 1955. Then he joined the Chittagong Govt College as a lecturer in 1956.

Besides, he served the Dhaka College, Rajshahi College and Carmichael College. He also worked in the Education Extension Centre in Dhaka as an expert, from where he got a scholarship of British Govt and received education at Manchester University. He also received TEO degree from the same university.
