

Service rule for school teachers sooa : Zafar

Education Minister Kazi Zafar Ahmed on Friday said that a service rule for school and Madrasha teachers would be announced soon, reports ENA.

He was speaking at the concluding function of the week-long teachers leadership workshop at a local restaurant in Dacca.

Kazi Zafar said that his ministry was working for formulating a service rule for the school and Madrasha teachers and added that it would be applicable for those who are not under any service rule at present.
Contd. on page 12 col. 3

Service rule

Contd. from page 1

He said that the teachers should be given their due social honour both by the Government and people so that they can carry out their responsibilities, according to the hopes and aspirations of the nation.

Describing the teachers as "life blood" of the nation Kazi Zafar said that a nation could earn prestige and honour only when the teachers play their constructive role.

The Minister said that the Government had taken all out efforts to solve the age-old problems in the education field. He said that the future education policy would reflect the hopes and aspirations of the people.

The function was also addressed among others by Mr. Robert M. Barker, Director of International Programmes of Canadian Teachers Federation, Mr. Aloysius Mathews, sub-regional assistant of the World Confederation of Teaching Profession (WCTP), Mr. A. F. M. Khalilur Rahman, President of Bangladesh College Teachers' Association (BCTA) and Mr. Shariful Islam, General Secretary of BCTA.