

Shafia's name in 'Who's Who'

By A Staff Correspondent

The name of Dr. Shafia Khatun Minister for Women's Affairs and Social Welfare has been included as a distinguished personality in 'Who's Who in the Commonwealth' published from Cambridge, England, 'International Who's Who of Intellectuals' also published from Cambridge, England, 'Who's Who Handbook for World Leaders in Government and Industries', New York and 'Lambert's World-wide Government Directory' Washington D C USA.

The International Biographical Association, Cambridge, England has also conferred fellowship of IBA on her. She has also got an invitation from 'The Who's Who in the World' and her name has been proposed for inclusion in the 'International Register of Profiles' Cambridge, England.

She is also one of the few recipients of the special commemorative award given by the International Biographical Centre, Cambridge.

Dr. Shafia Khatun has left her mark as an outstanding educationist of Bangladesh through her over three decades of career as an academician. She has also played a pioneering role in organising and founding a large number of socio-cultural organisations.

0 003