BUET Crisis

Sir,

The BUET (Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology), is one of the prestigious institutions in the South Asian region. However it is a matter of regret that the institution at present has remained closed due to the BUET students unrest. This situation occurred when some unruly students were expelled from the university for their misconduct and defiance of institutional disciplines which is why, the session jam for one year has been created.

Moreover, the new students of the institution are also facing session jam for another year. My nephew who occupied the first position in the combined merit list, got himself admitted to the BUET in the electrical engineering department. My brother-in-law being a guardian came to my house and expressed his concern and disappointment at the present situation. He told me that his son wished to be a graduate from the BUET, but the university has remained closed since his admission, April 99.

We, therefore, appeal to the relevant authority and the hon'ble Minister of Education for opening the BUET.

A.K.M. Masud Rana, Sub-Inspector of Police Mission Road, Dinajpur.
