Privilege of doctors

In response to the letter with the above title published in your daily dated 20/2/79, I want to put forward the following views:-

I fully agree with the views of Mr. Mansur Khalil concerning the admission of sons and daughters of doctors and professors working in Govt. establishments.

I had the opportunity to work as a Govt. Service Holder and at present I am on pension. During my long career, I came across many cases where disaffection arose between the staff and the authorities concerning personal grievances, such as pay increase, accommodation and other privileges, of the former. And from these experiences I have come to the conclusion that instead of increasing their pay and granting other privileges in some kind of privileges and concessions are granted to their sons and daughters concerning their education and employment then it goes a long way in keeping them satisfied and as Mr. Mansur Khalil has mentioned "it keeps their morale and working spirit high". And as a result this procedure not only helps the persons concerned but also the Govt. establishment and the Nation as a whole.

Since I am childless, I have nothing personal to gain if any privileges are granted to the wards of Govt. service holders concerning their education and employment. But I can guarantee that this procedure will free parents from worries and they can give more attention and energies to their work and keep them happy and satisfied.
