Examination system

The government has taken a commendable step to ensure a fair examination system. More than eleven thousand students have been expelled from different examination centres during the H.S.C. examination. In some centres, some angry students snatched away answer scripts from the innocent students. It is very pathetic. Some innocent brilliant students could not give their examination peacefully and safely. But the question arises as to who creates indiscipline in the examination hall. Every student does not take part in the indiscipline. It is apparent that those who appear at the examination without studying properly create disturbances in examination hall. But another question is how disallowed students get a chance to appear at the final examination? Before the final examination, students have to cross pre test and test examinations successfully. Only the students who pass the test examination successfully are eligible for the final examination. But in our country there is no value of pre-test and test examinations. All students, allowed and disallowed, fill up forms for the final examination.

I think if only the allowed students fill up forms for the final examinations, there will not be any disturbance in the examination hall. Teachers can play a vital role in this regard. They know very well about the students who will pass or fail. Disallowed students fill up forms with the hope of copying in the examination hall. So, when they get no chance for copying, they create disturbances in the examination hall.

I appeal to the authorities concerned to take necessary steps to ensure that only the students who pass the test examination successfully fill up forms for the final examination. If this system is adopted, indiscipline and chaos in the examination hall will be reduced to a great extent. The government should reward the teachers of the schools which will show brilliant results in the final examination to encourage new teachers.
