Chgt Veterinary College closed sine die

CHITTAGONG, June 21: Chittagong Government Veterinary College was today closed sine die and residential students vacated their dormitories following an order by the authority, reports BSS.

The order came after the students of the college confined the principal inside his room for one hour today to press home their six-point demand.

Police, later, rescued the principal and brought the situation under control.

Later, the students staged a sit-in in front of Chittagong Press Club and demanded immediate reopening of the college and hostel.
