Registration of pvt schools mandatory

The Education Ministry yesterday said registration of all private schools, including the English medium ones, is mandatory, reports BSS.

"According to government rules, registration of all private schools in the country is compulsory," an official handout said yesterday pointing out that many private English medium schools were functioning without any government registration.

The handout cautioned that such academic activities without prior registration is 'contrary to the laws of the land and a punishable offence.'

The Education Ministry advised the administrators of the unregistered academic institutions to obtain registrations from the concerned authorities.
