

Women can play important role in Islamic education

CHITTAGONG, June 28: Barrister Rabia Bhuiyan Minister for Social Welfare and Women Affairs, said that the teachings and ideals of Islam could make an exploitation free, happy and prosperous abode for all. She was speaking as the chief guest at the foundation laying ceremony of the Mahila Islamic Pathagar here on Thursday evening. says an official press release. reports BSS.

Presided over by Prof Salm Chowdhury the meeting was also addressed by Begum Zinat Azam, Secretary of the Pathagar. The minister appreciating the move said that such a step taken by the leading women would play an important role in developing the Islamic education and culture. She also underscored the need for proper study of Islamic philosophy of life and culture.

The minister advised the women to abide by the religious norms and values in very sphere of life. She said that Islamic is the complete code of life and if we follow the norms and values of Islam he shall be able to overcome all the problems and challenges in our individual as well as national life.