

Follow new rules for admission to Class XI

The government has asked the students and their guardians, teachers and the authorities of the educational institutions to follow the newly introduced procedures regarding admission to class eleven, an official handout said yesterday, reports BSS.

As per the new admission rule, seats will be distributed on the basis of the merit list to be prepared combining the marks obtained in the admission test and the main examination. Ten per cent mark of the main examination, excluding the fourth subject, will be added with the marks of the admission test.

The education ministry thinks that discipline in the admission procedure has been restored this year following the introduction of the new system which will ensure the meritorious students to get priority in getting admission.

The ministry has directed the authorities concerned to investigate if the educational institutions are following the new procedure properly and submit report immediately. The education minister issued this order as complaints of non-compliance of this system by some colleges has been brought to his notice.
