

Question paper leakage: DU English exam postponed

Staff Reporter

An examination (under traditional system) of English Department of Dhaka University was postponed yesterday following leakage of the question paper.

Examinees sources said, the examination of Course No. 301 of Third Year was postponed a few minutes before it was scheduled to begin at 10 am when authorities learnt about the leakage of the question paper.

The duplicate copies of the question paper were found to some of the examinees prior to beginning of the examination, it added.

Protesting the incident, many of the examinees in a processions went to the Vice-Chancellor and demanded of him to remove the chairman of English Department.

Meanwhile, the Controller
Contd. on page 8 col. 4

Question paper

Contd from page 1

of Examinations in a notification announced a fresh date of holding of the examination on November 11.

Despite repeated attempts to contact over telephone, neither the Controller of Examination nor the departmental chairman was available last night.

101