All the classes of Dhaka University will remain closed for 18 days from Tuesday on the occasion of holy Ramjan, Eid-ul-Fitre, May Day and Death Anniversary of Sher-e-Bangla A.K. Fazlul Huq.

Like the previous year, the University authorities cut short the summer and Ramjan vacation this year by 24 days and took extra classes and held examinations to reduce session jams. All the classes of Dhaka University will resume on May 13 next.

According to earlier calendar, the classes were scheduled to be closed for 42 days on account of summer and ramjan vacation since April 7 to May 19.
