

East West University's lectures on media

East West University is organising a series of professional lectures of illustrious personalities of Bangladesh and from abroad. As part of commitment to student body and society at large, we wish to provide our students an exposure beyond the textbooks and help them learn more about realities of the present-day world, says a Press release.

As a part of this continuing programme eminent media personality Iqbal Bahar Chowdhury, Chief Bangla Service, Voice of America on Tuesday talked to the student of the university at its campus. During the one-hour session Chowdhury unfolded his experience in the field of broadcast media for the last 50 years. During this interactive session students also asked Chowdhury some questions related to the media and information technology. He referred to the broadcast media of the 50s with not-so-fine equipment but excellent quality programme.
