

Education Day today

Staff Correspondent

TEACHERS and students will observe the Education Day today recalling the sacrifice made by people in the education movement of 1962.

The day is observed commemorating the sacrifice of Mostafa, Babul, Wajullah, killed on September 17, 1962 in police firing on a demonstration of students who were staging protests for democracy and right to education and protesting against the then SM Sharif Education Commission formed by the Ayub regime.

Different political, students and socio-cultural organisations have taken elaborate programmes marking the day.

Students and socio-cultural organisations will place wreath at Shikkha Odhikar Chattar pillar in front of Shiksha Bhaban in the capital at about 8:00am.

National Front of Teachers and Employees and Initiative for Human Development will jointly organise a human chain at in front of National Press Club.
