

Education for All Week begins tomorrow

The Education for All Week will be observed throughout the country from April 22, says BSS.

This year, the theme of the week, observed under the auspices of Primary and Mass Education Department, is: "We won't remain illiterate. Won't Become Burdens for the Nation."

Meanwhile, the department has chalked out an elaborate programme to observe the week in a befitting manner.

On the first day of the week, a colourful procession will be brought out from the South Plaza of the Sangsad Bhaban at 8 a.m. The procession will parade through different city streets before terminating at the same place.

Primary and Mass Education Advisor to the Prime Minister Professor Jahanara Begum will lead the procession.

Prime Minister Begum Khaleda Zia will inaugurate the week at Bangladesh-China Friendship Hall at 11 a.m. on the day.

On April 23, meeting gatherings and rallies will be held at school at Upazila and district levels.
