

IU gets new student adviser

IU Correspondent

THE authorities of Islamic University in Kushtia on Thursday appointed Prof Anwarul Haque of Biotechnology and Genetic Engineering department as new student adviser of the university, IU registrar office said.

IU vice-chancellor Prof Harun-Ur-Rashid Askari appointed him to the post. He would continue the post until further notice. He replaced Prof Anower Hossen of Islamic History and Culture department of the university.

Besides, the university authorities also appointed a transport administrator, a chairman, three hall provosts and a director of IQAC. | \