

JnU celebrates 11th founding anniv

Emrul Hasan Bappi

THE Jagannath University authorities celebrated JnU Day on Thursday marking the university's eleventh founding anniversary amid festivity.

The daylong celebration included hoisting of the national and university flags, a colourful procession, a discussion programme, a cultural event and a drama performance.

JnU vice-chancellor Mijanur Rahman inaugurated the programmes by hoisting the national flag and releasing pigeons at about 10:00am.

After that, a colorful procession, led by the VC, was brought out on the campus.

Later, a discussion programme was held at JnU central auditorium.

While addressing the discussion programme as the chief guest, the VC said that the university would play a vital role in higher education sector of the country in the nearest future.

He unveiled a special supplement, marking the institution's founding anniversary.

Among others, JnU treasurer Md Salim Bhuiyan,

Teachers' Association president Kazi Saifuddin, general secretary Nure Alam Abdullah, law faculty dean Sarker Ali Akkas and registrar Md Ohiduzzaman, addressed the programme.

Teachers and students of JnU music department organised a concert while theatre department students staged a drama titled Ganga Thake Buriganga.

A mega concert was also held on the science building premises in the afternoon where Nagar Baul and Shironamhin, two of the most popular bands of the country, performed.

Teachers, students and employees of Jagannath University bring out a colourful procession, marking the university's eleventh founding anniversary, on the campus on Thursday. -- New Age photo