Compulsory primary education suggested

RANGAMATI, Oct. 11. Speakers at an education workshop held here on Saturday suggested compulsory primary education and introduction of technical and vocational courses at secondary level, reports BSS.

The workshop, inaugurated by Deputy Commissioner, Chittagong Hill Tracts was attended, among others, by members of National Educational Advisory Council, Dr. A. K. M. Obaidullah and Haji Mohammed Danesh. Delegates from all over the district also attended the workshop.

The workshop, organised by District Education Workshop Committee also stressed the need for allocation of more money for Education Department.

The speakers observed that the education policy should be formulated in such a way that might help bringing economic prosperity for the people. They also suggested some structural and administrative modifications in the present education system.
